

A5u Car USB Charger CONCEALMENT

The Geonautics A5u car USB charger concealment (recorder) contains an A5 audio recorder with an internal microphone. The concealment can be used as normal to power equipment from either USB port.

Operation

The recorder operates when the charger is plugged into an active cigarette lighter socket in the vehicle. There is no external indication that the device is recording, however if 12v is present at the accessory socket the recorder will be on. It is recommended to plug in a known good USB device to verify that the car cigarette lighter socket is functioning and that the concealment is making good contact with the socket.

Note: The recorder will stop recording whenever the keys are placed in the "Lock" position or are removed from the ignition.

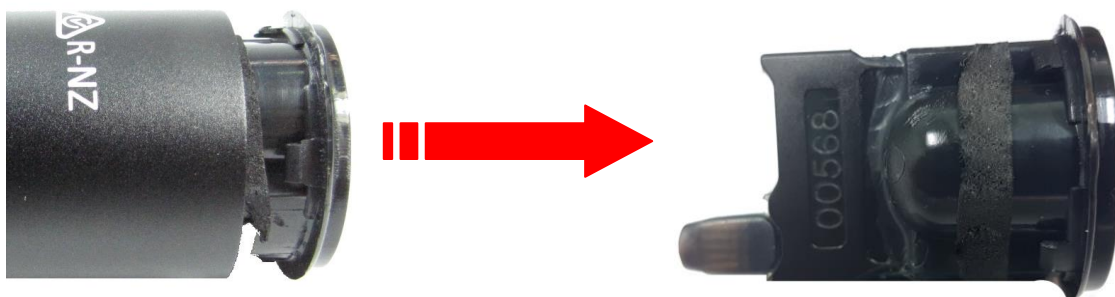

Removing the Recorder

The recorder needs to be removed from the USB charger before it can be downloaded. To remove the recorder, follow these steps:

1. Find the lip on the bottom of the USB hide (circled)
2. Holding the body of the hide, gently pull the tab in the opposite direction:

3. The recorder will come out as shown below:

The Dongle 3 cable can be used to download and configure the recorder using Whisper2.

Please check the Whisper2 user guide contained on the supplied USB stick for programming and details on how to download the recorded audio.

Reinserting the Recorder

To install the recorder into the concealment follow these steps:

1. Orient the concealment so that the three gold power pins are visible as shown here:

2. Line up the recorder so that the three gold pads will contact the pins

3. Holding the body of the hide, gently push the two pieces together until there is no more travel.
4. The concealment is now ready for deployment again.
